

Is your firm migrating to a new document management program and you don't know where to start?

Even if you aren't migrating to a new platform now, you may need to make that call in the future.

So join us for a terrific panel discussion with experts in the field on May 2, 2024.

We will be hosting a virtual round table discussion to answer all your questions . . .

Where do I start? How do we plan? What pitfalls should we look out for?

Don't forget all the technical issues as well. Bring your questions and be ready for a great discussion with the folks from Afinity and 3545 Consulting as well as some ALA members who have made started the process.
